

Tinsley Neighbourhood Quality of Life Trends 2000-2007

Sheffield's East End Quality of Life Initiative has, as part of its remit over the years, undertaken research into quality of life issues in the area. Table 1 summarises the surveys of local residents that have included questions to evaluate attitudes towards quality of life issues, and the graphs on following pages illustrate how responses of Tinsley residents have changed over the years.

Except for the postal survey in 2000, none of the surveys has attempted to get a representative sample of Tinsley residents, but have either targeted low response areas, or particular populations. This booklet illustrates trends over time where comparable questions have been asked.

The report is split into sections showing:

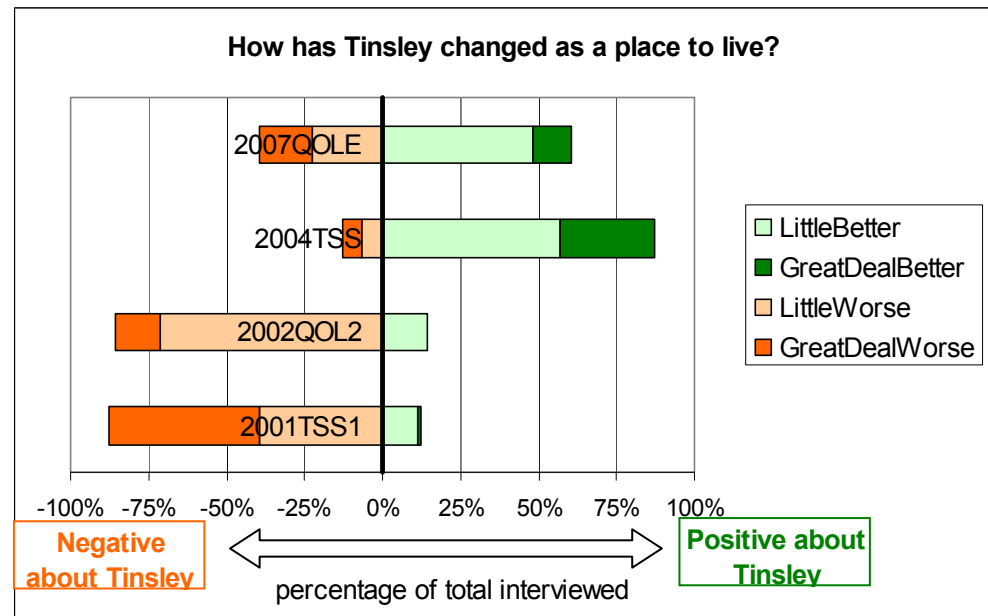

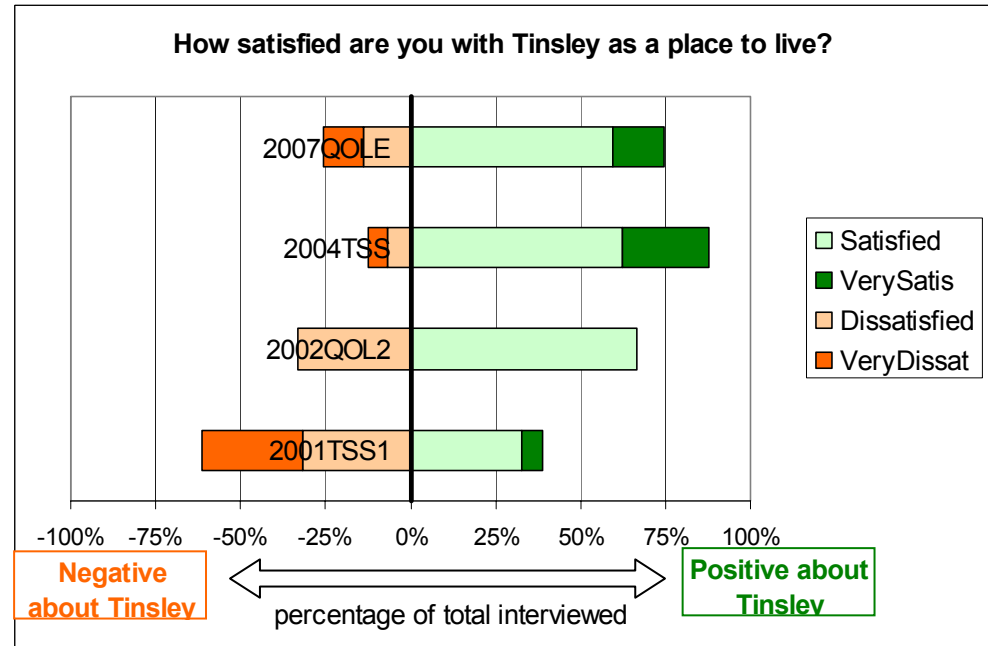

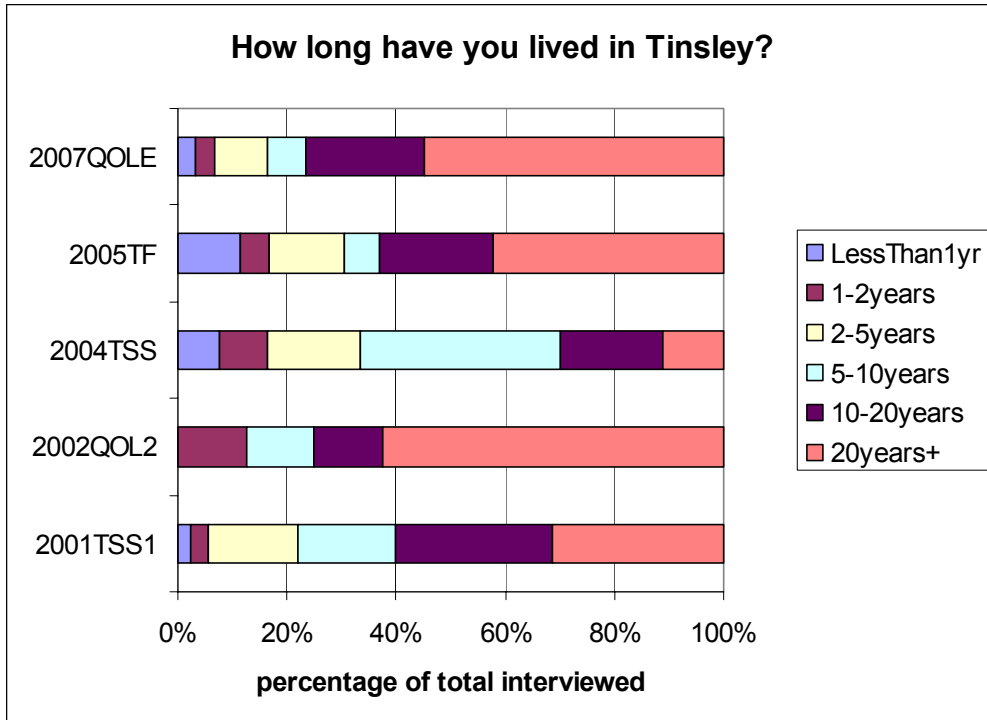

- Attitudes to the area in general
- Satisfaction with local amenities and facilities
- Health
- Environment and traffic
- Safety and security
